

The meeting addressed this evening by Mr. Etheridge in the convention of Liberal Republicans, and should be largely attended. The late adherents of the administration.

WE HAVE a letter from an excellent citizen giving the nomination of Colonel John S. Kerr for the State Senate. The letter will appear in our column Monday. Though very laudatory of this gentleman, there is no word written in assertion of his virtues which he does not deserve.

The Democratic Executive Committee will meet this evening at two o'clock at the Second Chancery Courtroom. All the candidates nominated at the late convention are requested to be present. No others are invited, as the meeting of a private nature will come up for consideration by the committee.

THE CHANCELLER and other Indiana (Washington) complained yesterday at the Mississippi for new west of the great river, and now their minds are about to be overruled by the Mississippi. They themselves expelled. Speculators and thieves get bills through Congress only to the Indians, who say they originally owned the whole country, and now hold only a little speck which should be spared to them. Grant cried about it, no doubt, but the railroads must be built. Moreover, these Indians killed the very last of the Mound builders, the bones of half a million of whom, we are told, lie in a single trench in Arkansas. It is might that makes right. We of the South have been learning that lesson.

THE SCHOOLS. The Inequality of Salaries.

With others, we visited the Alabama street schools yesterday. The examinations being ended, distribution of prizes seemed to be the "order of the day." The teachers, despite of the "wear and tear" look caused by their arduous labors, were all smiling and cheerful.
